Overview

The fundamental idea of adoption is that children who have been orphaned, abused, or abandoned thrive best in families rather than orphanages. The loving, nurturing, and protective care provided by parents serves as the ideal foundation for children to grow and reach their full potential. This principle has been the guiding light of our work.

For over three decades, Children of the World Delhi (CWD) has dedicated itself to transforming the lives of marginalized children. We have helped many reunite with their biological families and, more importantly, secured brighter futures for hundreds of children born into challenging circumstances by placing them in loving adoptive families both in India and abroad.

Beyond adoption, CWD has extended its reach to impoverished communities through sponsorships and community outreach programmes. These initiatives focus on keeping children in school, strengthening family bonds, and improving their nutritional and overall health. Our efforts aim to keep children off the streets and provide them with the opportunities they deserve.

Our 33-year journey of making a positive impact on children in need has not been without challenges. The most significant hurdle we face is funding. In the hierarchy of NGOs—ranging from UN-backed organizations to large corporate-funded entities and smaller grassroots NGOs like ours—we occupy the lower rungs of the financial ladder. This positioning has made it particularly difficult to secure long-term financial stability, limiting our ability to expand and diversify our operations.

As we reflect on our journey, I would like to extend, on behalf of CWD, our heartfelt gratitude to everyone who has supported us along the way.

To our donors: Your generosity has been the lifeblood of our mission, enabling us to sustain and grow our programmes. Your contributions have brought hope and stability to countless lives.

To the regulatory authorities: Your guidance and oversight have ensured that our work remains transparent, efficient, and impactful.

And most importantly, to our dedicated employees: Your compassion, commitment, and tireless efforts have been the driving force behind the success and longevity of CWD. You are the heart and soul of this organization.

As we look ahead, we remain committed to bringing hope, care, and opportunities to every child who needs us. Together, with your continued support, we can keep building better futures for generations of children to come.

Our Mission

Help children born in difficult circumstances find immediate and lasting love, care, and family support so that they grow up to become happy, healthy, educated, socially responsible and financially independent individuals.

About Us

Children of the World Delhi (CWD) is a non-political, secular, and non-profit NGO registered under the Societies Registration Act No. XXI of 1860. CWD is recognized as a 'Specialized Adoption Agency' by Central Adoption Resource Authority (CARA), Ministry of Women and Child Development, Government of India.

We aim to help abandoned, orphaned and destitute children by way of adoption, sponsorship, and community development projects in the Delhi National Capital Region (NCR).

CWD is committed to the UN Declaration on Children's Rights, specifically their rights to special protection, social and material security, care, and positive conditions for growing up.

We trace our origins back to the Norwegian Korean Association (founded in 1953 during the Korean War) and its subsequent avatar, Children of the World Norway (founded in 1978).

CWD Founder and Secretary, Late Mrs Mohini Raghunath founded Children of the World Bombay in August 1984, and subsequently, established Children of the World Delhi in 1991.

Changing Lives, Securing Futures. One Child at a Time

Childcare Centre

Mamta, a residential childcare facility, serves as the primary centre for infants and children up to the age of 6 years who have been abandoned, surrendered, orphaned, or lost due to circumstances like socioeconomic factors, marital disputes, parental loss, or family rifts. At Mamta, such children receive continuous care, housing, education, medical assistance, and rehabilitation services until they are placed in loving adoptive families in India and abroad.

Adoption

Adoption in India is primarily facilitated through registered adoption agencies that are licensed by the Central Adoption Resource Authority (CARA), which is the nodal body responsible for regulating adoption in the country. Throughout its existence, CWD has helped numerous children to be embraced by affectionate adoptive families throughout the world. Additionally, we have facilitated the restoration of numerous children to their biological families.

Post the COVID-19 pandemic, various alternative care methods for children have emerged, such as inter-relative adoption and foster care. We have successfully placed children in foster care.

Community Outreach

In 2023-2024, CWD continued its efforts in reaching out to approximately 80 families in the nearby Manglapuri community which needed support in terms of medical supplies and general counselling. For many of our previously sponsored children, we organized personality development and goal-setting workshops. CWD also conducted CPR (Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation) training workshop for Mamta staff and families of the Manglapuri community.

All festivals such as Holi, Republic Day, Raksha Bandhan, Lohri, Diwali, and Christmas are celebrated with great enthusiasm at CWD.

Adoption Opens the Door for a Child to a Brighter Future

ADOPTION PROGRAMME

Mamta functions as the residential facility for Children of the World Delhi (CWD), catering to the needs of abandoned and vulnerable children aged from zero to six years.

The central aim of Mamta is to provide immediate shelter, protection, and ultimately, the long-term rehabilitation of children. This involves options like adoption and foster care when it is difficult to reunite children with their biological families.

Children are admitted into Mamta under the authorization of the Child Welfare Committee (CWC). Upon admission, these children often exhibit signs of distress, necessitating prompt medical attention and psychological counselling. Our in-house staff comprising nurses and caregivers provide round-the-clock care to such children. A consulting paediatrician oversees the medical needs, if any, of the children. They are taken for regular medical check-ups and vaccinations. In case they need specialised medical attention, specialists are at hand to examine them. Medical Examination Reports (MERs) and Child Study Reports (CSRs) are created for all children to monitor their progress. These reports are submitted to the Central Adoption Resource Authority.

There is a designated room for children of all ages. Girls and boys have separate rooms. The infants and toddlers stay separately in the nursery.

Special efforts have been made to keep the residential environment clean and child-friendly. The dietary plan is thoughtfully curated to offer balanced nutrition and appealing flavours suitable for children of varying ages.

For newborns and toddlers, there is a diverse array of activities to nurture their cognitive and physical advancement. Older children are admitted to the nearby formal government school and engaged in extra-curricular activities such as physical exercise, and arts and craft.

Occasionally, children with specific needs are also admitted into Mamta. These children receive specialized attention and rehabilitative therapies tailored to their requirements. It is important to note that such children are often perceived as challenging for adoption within India, primarily due to the skewed preferences of prospective adoptive parents.

In addition to the above, a dedicated band of volunteers contribute to designing engaging and captivating activities for the children.

Keeping Children Engaged through Scholastic and Recreational Activities

A Joyful Adoption Story

Archie. Our Bundle of Joy!

We took our marriage vows in 2003, full of dreams and hopes for our shared future. Like every couple, we wanted to have a child, but after trying for some time, we were unable to conceive.

We consulted a doctor, hoping for a solution, but were told that ours was a case of unexplained infertility. So, we tried IVF, but that did not work either.

After facing many disappointments, we knew we had to look for another way to grow our family. That's when we decided to apply for adoption. We registered on the CARA portal. Our waitlisted number was close to 3000!

Finally, our turn came after three long years. The authorities informed us that we had the option to choose from three referrals. But when we met Archie (name changed) for the first time, we felt an immediate connect with her. In fact, from the moment we first set our eyes on her, we felt that she belonged to our family!

When we brought Archie home, it seemed that our prayers had been answered in the most beautiful way. Archie's laughter filled our home with a joy we had never known before. Our entire family embraced her with open arms and hearts full of love. This happiness - in the form of Archie - is what we had longed for, and for which, we will always be grateful to God.

The adoption journey was made easier thanks to the support of Mrs. Saraswathi, and Ms. Seema of Children of the World Delhi. They guided us through the process patiently.
